thanks, interesting. Dan Fee from Lynn called me before I left for the meeting, so I gave him your contact info. He's probably already contacted you.

Just popped over to see you but you were out....in case you haven't seen Chuck for an update on the Lynn heroin situation here is the scoop. First of all, the 3 samples that we received this morning do not contain fentanyl or anything else that is unusual. Preliminary quants reveal that 2 of the samples are not unusually strong, in the 30-40 percent ballpark. The third bag however is very strong at over 90%. Everything is still a work in progress but that looks like how it is going to end up.
